FATHER KEN'S CORNER

Dear Sisters and Brothers of the Parish of the Good Shepherd,

At times we may think that God isn't calling us to serve Christ and the Gospel beyond what we already may be doing. Yes, we participate in the Eucharist, most Sundays (or perhaps even less). Yes, we pray; many times asking in our prayers of petition rather than praising or giving thanks to God. How often we speak rather than listen. Do we allow ourselves to be still and feel God's presence in and around us? Yet, is that enough? – especially if we are called to produce a harvest of 30/60/100 fold (last week's gospel). I assure you that Our God is always calling, always prompting, always nudging us to serve the people of God in ways that we might not ever expect.

You may recall a young tennis star named Andrea Jaeger. She was just 14 years of age when she turned professional and rose in the ranking of top players, at one time rated number 2 in the world. As an 18 year old, she gained what many tennis players consider the pinnacle of success – reaching the finals in Wimbledon (she lost). But it wasn't this disappointment, any other loss on the courts or even the shoulder injury which helped her to decide to give up the potential of making millions of more dollars from her tennis talents. She felt God was calling her to do something more than tennis.

Fairly recently, Jaeger opened up and revealed why she suddenly quit the sport in which she excelled and became an Episcopalian nun. In this interview, she spoke about the systemic abuse she suffered, helping her to make the decision to walk away. She said, "My parents didn't go to church. We didn't have a Bible in the house, but for whatever reason, I feel God gave me a gift of faith. I always said my prayers when I was little. No one told me to. I didn't learn in school or from TV. I just knew God existed and that we were friends and had a personal relationship. None of my family knew I prayed every day of my life."

There were many comments, most of them negative, when she walked away from the sport. Some said that she was a victim of her own success; burning out young. She was labeled as a "lost soul". In reality, it was the very opposite. Forty years after she abruptly left the game, Jaeger described the sexual harassment in the locker rooms from a former employee of the Women's Tennis Association among other disturbing hassles, including being a target of practical 'jokes' like having razor blades put inside her shoes.

Therefore, it wasn't a great revelation to her when she felt the call to begin helping kids with cancer, becoming, for the past few decades, director of the "Little Star Foundation". It was there that she placed the millions of dollars won on the tour.

We seldom know ahead of time what God is calling us to do and to be. I know for me personally, as a child, priesthood was far down on the list of things to pursue. At that time, I would have given anything to become an astronaut and later on was quite focused on a military career. But when you fail the eye test, what the tennis phenom and I had in common was hearing that "inner voice"; being open to the grace of God and being pliable to the direction we were being pointed.

I'm hoping that our younger parishioners will read this column and 'be open' to consider that God may be calling them to something beyond their personal dreams. I'm also hoping that parents of our school age children come to realize that they also may be called to a Ministry of Service; perhaps as a catechist, a Eucharistic minister, a lector or member of the choir. Perhaps someone reading this has felt that inner tug to test the vocation as a deacon. Perhaps someone has time on their hands or a special skill and feels a need to share some of that time and talent with the wider community. Like Andrea Jaeger, any of us might be called to take that extra step.

Andrea Jaeger said, "Sometimes I think that God puts me in places for other people's faith to be restored or inspired". I think that's what God desires for all of us – whether we know it or want it or not!

Good News!

July 30, 2023

Seventeenth Sunday in Ordinary Time (A)

1 Kings 3:5, 7-12 / Romans 8:28-30 /
Matthew 13:44-52 or 13:44-46

FR. JOSEPH JUKNIALIS

Much like still-fishing, which is when the fish ultimately find the one sitting quietly waiting for the fish, most of the really treasured aspects of life somehow find us when we’re not looking. Consider falling in love or discovering a friend; the job you enjoy so much that you’d almost do it for free; a hobby that gives you so much satisfaction; creative gifts you never knew you had until you stumbled upon them later in life. To say nothing of happiness for which so many go looking and never seem to find, while others are happy without ever seeking it out.

Wisdom, the gift Solomon asked for, is much like all of that. It seems to find us. Common sense, the stepchild of wisdom, is something most parents want their children to have, and, for some parents, it may be a source of great frustration as they try to make sure their children have it and use it. Wisdom is certainly a hint of the kingdom of heaven, but then so too is finding love and experiencing joy and living with a peace that refuses to be unsettled by the storms of life. All of those are the buried treasures of which the Gospel speaks, just as for others it is the pearl of great price for which they look and look until it finds them, not unlike still-fishing. All are buried treasures, hidden pearls, and tastes of eternal life. ●

Good Shepherd Community Garden Project

Let's get the children more connected to what God has created for everyone to enjoy and appreciate!

The Garden Ministry proudly announces

The Good Shepherd Community Garden Project

The plan: Over the next few months, we will be adding garden beds behind the church with the hopes of providing an outdoor environment to nurture children's connection to the outdoor world. For the young members of our community this space will foster community involvement where they can actively participate in growing food that will be donated to those in need.

There are many ways to get involved!

We would like to collect potential volunteer contact information.

If interested, please email Veronica Miller at Ronki79@icloud.com or Joan Mulhall at Pcmulhall@verizon.net.

AT THE MOVIES with Donna

“The Flash” – Based on the DC Comics’ character, Barry Allen/The Flash realizes that due to his super powers, he can travel back in time to change events to save his family. However, by doing so he upsets the course of the alternate universes and must deal with the consequences. Well directed by Andy Muschietti with a solid script written by Christina Hodson. Top-notch cast that includes Ezra Miller, Michael Keaton, Ben Affleck, Michael Shannon, Sasha Calle and Ron Livingston. Miller does an outstanding job as the two Barrys – they may be the same characters in two different universes but they have different personalities and you never get confused telling them apart. Keaton is just excellent as the “older” Batman. Lots of action sequences, laugh-out-loud humor, and very heartwarming. After all is said and done, Barry just really misses his Mom. DC comic fans will enjoy this movie and if you are a Michael Keaton fan, make sure this one is on your list.

“Indiana Jones and the Dial of Destiny” – As a long-time fan of Indiana Jones, I could not wait for this fifth and final installment of the film series. Set in 1969, Indy and his goddaughter search for a device that could change the course of history, if fallen in the wrong hands. Well directed by James Mangold and co-written with Jez Butterworth, John-Henry Butterworth and David Koepf. Great cinematography by Phedon Papamichael. Kudos to the special effects and CGI teams for the incredible digital de-aging technique. Talented cast that includes Harrison Ford, Phoebe Waller-Bridge, Antonio Banderas, John Rhys-Davies, Toby Jones, Mads Mikkelsen and Karen Allen. Ford gives an emotional and terrific performance as he closes the chapter to this iconic character. It doesn’t matter the number of action scenes or what the story line is – if you are a fan of Indiana Jones, you will love this movie. By the way, the ending was just perfect.

“Sound of Freedom” - Based on a true story about a federal agent who rescues a boy from child traffickers and goes on to search for his sister, who has been sold into captivity in the Colombian jungle. Skillfully directed by Alejandro Monteverde and co-written with Ron Barr. Excellent cast includes Jim Caviezel, Bill Camp, Jose Zuniga and Cristal Aparicio. Besides its tough subject, this film is about hope, love, family, faith and selflessness. To think it sat on a shelf for several years before Angel Studios became the film’s distributor. You may recall Angel Studios is the studio that produces “The Chosen”. Yes, this is a movie that needs to be seen all, not only for its message but it is a well-crafted film. “When God tells you what to do, you cannot hesitate.”

“Mission Impossible – Dead Reckoning Part One” – Another anxiously awaited movie release is this sequel to the 2018 “Mission Impossible – Fallout” and the seventh installment in the MI film series. This time, Ethan Hunt and his team choose to accept the mission to locate a two-part cruciform shaped key that interlocks to open a new weapon known as The Entity, which threatens all of mankind. This one has it all – extraordinary acting, expert directing, wonderful choreographed action scenes, and stunts you have never seen before. It’s thrilling, it’s funny, it’s suspenseful, its edge-of-your-seat exciting! And it’s about friendship, family, loyalty and doing the right thing. Directed by Christopher McQuarrie and co-written with Erik Jendreson. A cast that includes Tom Cruise, Simon Pegg, Ving Rhames, Rebecca Ferguson, Esai Morales, Hayley Atwell, just to name a few. Cruise is just fantastic! Not only for the action scenes and the stunts, but for his portrayal of the character. And I’d be remiss if I didn’t mention the running scenes – there are several – no one runs like Tom Cruise. Looking forward to “Part Two”, but for now... go, sit back and enjoy. “Your life will always matter more to me than my own”

HIS WORDS.
YOUR JOURNEY.
TOGETHER.

On World Environment Day – June 5, 2023 – Pope Francis called on people “to move away from the throwaway culture toward ways of living marked by a culture of respect and care; care of creation and care of our neighbors, whether they be near or far from us either geographically or through time. Pope Francis has noted how science increasingly demonstrates that actions taken today will have an effect on the environment for thousands of years. This has also increased our sense of responsibility to God, who entrusted us with the care of creation, to our neighbors and to future generations.”
