FATHER KEN'S CORNER

Dear Brothers and Sisters of the Parish of the Good Shepherd,

Since the end of the Easter Season (Pentecost Sunday) and the truly beautiful and thought-provoking solemnities of Trinity and Corpus Christi Sunday, we've been presented with some equally engrossing and challenging gospel texts. I'd like all of us to consider them in toto as we may not see the order progression in the gospel readings from one Sunday to the next. And we may fail to appreciate the inspiring progression which should challenge us as well as motivate us.

A few weeks ago, on the Thirteenth Sunday of our liturgical year, Jesus simply said, "Follow me." He not only calls to walk with him, but Jesus reminds us that once we're committed to him that there should be no looking back. It is not quite the same as jumping off a mountain with one of those hang-gliders – once you jump and are in the air you have no other options – yet we all hang back from total and absolute commitment. But in reality, that's what Jesus is saying, "Jump and remember"; "None who set the hand to the plow and look back to what was left behind is fit for the Kingdom of God."

The next Sunday, we learned about what is required of us as disciples when Jesus sends the 72 out in pairs to proclaim, "The Kingdom of God is at hand for you." We also see that Jesus sees realizes the difficulties that we will encounter. "Behold I am sending you like lambs among wolves." That's not a very comforting image AND perhaps that's why we aren't "all in" as proclaimers of the Good News – you, me, no one likes to get hurt and Jesus promises us that no servant is greater than their master; what he suffers as God's true servant – we will also suffer when we are his true servants.

On July 10th, we again heard the parable of the "Good Samaritan". Like the scholar of the law who asked what was necessary to inherit eternal life, we know what is required. Moses tells the people in the first reading that what is required is not up in the sky, nor across the sea, something hidden and inaccessible. No, the "law" or the command to love is written on every human heart and we are to treat everyone – even those we don't like – with compassion. You and I know that many people need just a smile, a compliment, a kind word to bring a little healing in being today's 'Good Samaritan'!

And finally last week, we heard the story of Martha and Mary. How is it possible to accomplish all of the above? It is only possible to hear the call to discipleship, to become a laborer of the harvest while loving our neighbors by setting aside all the many things that make us anxious and worried. We are to sit at the feet of Jesus, drinking in his words in the Liturgy of the Word, and being fed by him at the table of Eucharist.

Which leads us to the conclusion of these thoughts – that being a Christian, a real and true follower of Jesus takes real courage and tenacity. Christianity demands an understanding of the above readings of recent gospels and applying that heart felt comprehension to ourselves. You and I are on a mission, we're missionaries very little different from those 72 sent out in pairs. And yet we are timid. I think of the citizens of the country of Ukraine and their ongoing battle with the Russian invaders. Without their enviable fortitude, their strength and courage, they never would have withstood this terribly bloody war for as long as they have. They believed this abhorrent aggression to be unjust and without provocation and they ACTED TOGETHER (and continue to act) to repel it.

How much fear they must have in knowing that they are outmatched in numbers and weaponry and yet they persist in defending their country. Jesus tells those who come to him; "Be not afraid." And today Jesus gives us the words which remind us not to fear those who can only kill the body. In saying (and truly praying) the "Our Father", we pray not only for our daily bread to sustain the body, but for that Spiritual Bread, Holy Eucharist, which fortifies us beyond the mere courage and stamina of inspired patriotism. Let us ACT TOGETHER with Mary (and later Martha) choosing the 'better part'.

Eighteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time (C)

Ecc1 1:2; 2:21-23; Col 3:1-5, 9-11; Lk 12:13-21

We hear many stories about women and men who value things or status over the people in their lives or over genuine fulfillment. Then something happens that throws them back on their heels and they are forced to face the question: Was it worth it? No, say the writers of today's readings. It is not worth losing yourself or the people you love. In fact, it is not worth risking your own integrity.

The Hebrew word for vanity can be translated as “worthless” or “foolish.” The characters in the first reading and the Gospel passage were considered foolish because the labors and possessions that wore them down were ultimately worthless.

This idea of vanity or foolishness is a prominent theme in the Wisdom tradition. We all know that actions have consequences. It's these consequences that reveal what is good for us and what is not, what is worth pursuing and what we should avoid. Those who learn from life experiences in this way are considered wise; those who don't are deemed foolish. We all know this; we have learned the truth of it from our own experience.

There is one more aspect that must be considered in making wise decisions. Which consequences are worth the effort we put into achieving them? Are we looking for short-term enjoyment or do we seek long-term satisfaction? The profit attained by the people in these readings did not last. They couldn't take it with them, so one might ask: Was it worth it?

RCIA

A Journey of Faith

For those who wish to join the Catholic Church there is a process called the Rite of Christian Initiation (RCIA). Candidates are gradually introduced to aspects of Catholic beliefs and practices. It includes several stages; including instruction, reflection, prayer and Rites celebrated at Mass.

Those who enter the process are expected to begin attending Mass on Sunday and participate in Parish activities. We meet on Tuesday evenings at 7pm beginning September 20th, 2022 and continue until the Eater Vigil, April 8th, 2023.

For those who have been baptized but have not received Communion and Confirmation, participation in the RCIA process will offer you the opportunity to complete the Sacraments.

If you are interested in joining the RCIA process, please call the Parish office at 631-588-7689 and ask to speak to our Pastor, Fr. Ken.

Mask Renewal

Dear Parishioners – as you have probably heard, the latest Covid variant is the most transmissible to date. Cases on Long Island have rapidly increased, even with vaccination and booster shots. Hospitalizations are up. We are reminded that the highest probability of being infected is by being in close proximity and in enclosed spaces for a long period of time. Examples of enclosed spaces are restaurants, movie theaters and yes, houses of worship.

While those vaccinated do not seem to develop debilitating illnesses, it has been established that those who are infected more than once have a far greater chance of developing “Long Covid” – that which affects the body and mind for longer periods of time – before any recovery or no recovery at all.

Therefore, unfortunately, I’m asking that we once again mask up while in church. THIS IS TOTALLY VOLUNTARY, yet it seems a wise choice being safe rather than sorry. I myself will be masking up while distributing Holy Communion so that if I do become infected, I don’t spread it to many others. Please seriously consider this request to protect yourselves, your family and fellow parishioners.

Peace, Fr. Ken

Jesus' Teaching on Prayer

One day Jesus was praying. One of His disciples said, “Lord, teach us to pray.”

AT THE MOVIES with Donna...

“Downton Abbey: A New Era” – In this sequel to the 2019 film, Lady Mary, now in charge of the household, agrees to allow a film production company to shoot a new silent movie at the manor; as her parents and other family members travel to France to visit a villa the Dowager Countess of Grantham has inherited. Superbly written by Julian Fellowes and beautifully directed by Simon Curtis. Breathtaking cinematography of the Yorkshire Country side by Andrew Dunn, with spectacular production design and costumes. A stellar cast that includes Hugh Bonneville, Elizabeth McGovern, Michelle Dockery, Hugh Darcy, Jim Carter and the always magnificent, Maggie Smith. Downton fans will once again enjoy spending a few hours with the Crawley Family and their staff.

“Top Gun: Maverick” – Finally, the long wait is over, the highly anticipated sequel is here – and it does not disappoint. In this follow-up to the 1986 film, Pete “Maverick” Mitchell, a test pilot and one of the Navy’s top aviators, is called to train an elite group of pilots assembled for a dangerous mission. This has it all – spectacular aerial action scenes, fast-paced, elevated character development, sentimentality and heart-warming. Director Joseph Kosinski takes this film to a higher level. Terrific story by Peter Craig and Justin Marks, with an outstanding script by Ehren Kruger, Eric Warren Singer and Christopher McQuarrie. Terrific cast led by a masterful Tom Cruise, Miles Teller, Jennifer Connelly, Jon Hamm, and Val Kilmer, in a fitting tribute. The camera work by Cinematographer Claudio Miranda and editing by Eddie Hamilton is just remarkable. Not one second of this film is wasted. Thank you, Tom Cruise, for bringing us a memorable and truly phenomenal film. You’ll want to see it again and again and again.

“Jurassic World Dominion” – This is the final chapter in the trilogy of films originally based on Michael Crichton’s 1990 book. Picking up where the 2018 film left off, Owen Grady and Claire Dearing are raising Maisie Lockwood, the granddaughter of Dr. Lockwood, who created Jurassic Park. Enter in the evil billionaire owner of a bioengineering company, who wants to take over the world, of course. Well directed and co-written by Colin Trevorrow with Emily Carmichael. Probably the most attracting feature of the film, is its returning cast members that include Chris Pratt, Bryce Dallas Howard, Laura Dern, Sam Neill and Jeff Goldblum. It was nice to see the original three, Dern, Neill and Goldblum, back together again. There are the usual scary dinosaur scenes, violence, with plenty of special effects, and edge of your seat action. But, besides all of that, the one message that stands out above the rest is that you cannot keep a mother away from its child, whether human or reptile. I am sure there is an audience out there that will really enjoy this film. It was entertaining, but I think I have seen my fill of dinosaurs.

“Lightyear” – In order to truly understand the clever creativity of this computer-animated action-adventure, we must understand its background. In the first “Toy Story” movie, Little Andy was given an action figure named Buzz Lightyear as a birthday gift. That action figure was based on the character from his favorite movie. “Lightyear” is that movie. The movie is about a young astronaut who desperately tries to find a way back home for his commander and crew who are lost on a far away planet. This enjoyable, light hearted film is about friendship, family and sacrifice. Well directed and co-written by Angus MacLane with Jason Headley. “To infinity and beyond”.

“Elvis” – This musical biopic tells the story of Rock ‘n’ Roll icon Elvis Presley, his rise to fame and his relationship with his manipulating manager, Colonel Tom Parker. Director Baz Luhrmann has his own artistic style, either you enjoy it or you don’t. He does a good job here and also co-wrote the interesting script with Sam Bromell, Craig Pearce and Jeremy Doner. The main attraction of this film, however, is the outstanding performance by Austin Butler, who is just stunning as Elvis. Rounding out the cast are Tom Hanks, Olivia DeJonge, Kelvin Harrison, Helen Thomson, and Luke Bracey. This film had a profound effect on me. As a fan of this legendary star, I knew that he had much sadness in his life, but to know that at the height of his career and popularity, he felt he would never be remembered, is heart-breaking. It’s sad to think that he never fully realized the impact he made and his contribution to the music industry. “A reverend once told me, when things are too dangerous to say, sing.”

Craft Fair Mailing

Can You Lend a Hand?

We can use all the help we can get!

The parish mailing for our Craft Fair will be on Tuesday, July 26 - starting at 6PM. Any time you can make that night would be greatly appreciated! Come at 7 if you can't make 6:00!
