FATHER KEN'S CORNER

Dear Sisters and Brothers of the Parish of The Good Shepherd,

Three weeks ago, villages in southern Israel were attacked by Hamas terrorists. These terrorists, killed, maimed, pillaged and committed unspeakable atrocities. Israel has a right, a duty and responsibility to its people to respond.

“You have heard it said, ‘An eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth. But I say to you...”

THE PEACE OF THE LORD BE WITH YOU! Have not both Jews and the Palestinians both lost an eye? There are hostages still being detained by Hamas and there is still the suffering of hundreds or thousands of people in the Gaza strip. An eye for and eye – where does it end?

We have to consider that no matter where we are and as much as we might wish to avoid it, we hear only of discord and disharmony, hatred and violence, not only in the world, but in congress, among the fans of our sports teams and even in our families. We pray for peace, but it seems that we are confronted by the very opposite. From the beginning of time, women and men have ardently prayed to God that cooler heads and hearts would prevail, and battles and the killing of both combatants and innocents be avoided. As I write earlier this week, you and I turn to God and ask for divine intercession of some sort and that hundreds, thousands of lives be spared in the tensions between Israel and its neighbors. In this age of the possibility of mass destruction, our prayers are needed now more than ever.

In his letter to Proba, St. Augustine speaks about prayer in a way that we may have wondered about as well. “Therefore, when the Apostles says, Let your petition become known before God, this should not be taken in the sense that they are in fact becoming known to God who certainly knew them before they were made...Why he should ask us to pray, WHEN HE KNOWS WHAT WE NEED BEFORE WE ASK HIM, may perplex us if we do realize that our Lord and God do not want to know what we want (for he cannot fail to know) BUT WANTS US RATHER TO EXERCISE OUR DESIRE THROUGH OUR PRAYERS, SO THAT WE MAY BE ABLE TO RECEIVE WHAT HE IS PREPARING TO GIVE US.”

St. Augustine, gives an answer to that perpetual question, that if God already knows all that we need, why do we need to ask? He gives the example of Jesus himself in the Garden of Gethsemane. Did not his Father know what Jesus was asking? Did Jesus need to spend so long a time in prayer when he was in the knowledge that in asking if it were possible for that cup of suffering to pass him by, His Father already knew the outcome of the prayer?

In essence, God desires our prayers of request as well as desiring our prayers of praise and thanksgiving. In essence, God desires that we WANT to approach him, and that we WANT to engage in this personal and intimate conversation. In short, Our Father desires that we approach him in ALL things, both the good and the bad. One can go back all the way to the beginning of creation when Adam and Eve hid themselves in the Garden of Eden (in paradox to the garden where Jesus prayed) after they had been tempted and disobeyed God’s command not to eat of the fruit of a certain tree. God went looking for them and asks, “Where are you?”

It is for this reason that we send our prayers floating up to heaven like the burning of incense so that we can exercise our desire to approach God in all things and to have the confidence that when our prayers do not produce the outcome we desire, like Jesus we can peacefully accept what God desires for us. After all, the people of the earth have prayed for peace since recorded history. Before we extend the Sign of Peace to one another in our liturgy, the priest prays, “look not on our sins, but on the faith of your church, and graciously grant her peace and unity in accordance with your will.”

I am completely certain that God wills peace and unity of all the people of the earth. I sincerely question if the inhabitants of the earth truly desire and will those blessings of peace and unity for one another.

Thirty-first Sunday in Ordinary Time (A)
Malachi 1:14b-2:2b, 8-10 / 1 Thessalonians 2:7b-9, 13 /
Matthew 23:1-12

FR. JOSEPH JUKNIALIS

In July 2013, as part of a visit to Brazil, Pope Francis met with the Latin American conference of bishops. Speaking informally, bishop to bishops, he said, “At times we lose people because they don’t understand what we are saying, because we have forgotten the language of simplicity and import an intellectualism foreign to our people.”

I thought about how his words could be applied in my parish, so one Sunday I asked the people in the pews what they looked for from the Church. I was impressed and touched by their answers: wisdom to make their way through life; where and how to find God; a desire to be treated like adults; compassion for themselves and for others; guidance to reach out to the needy in society; a link between faith and life; a place to find some peace and quiet; wisdom for the political process. It was a list by which we who lead need to examine our consciences.

The charge from Pope Francis is to be a Church that speaks to people where they are with the words of everyday life. We look for wisdom that enables us to become our best selves. And that is what healthy religion is about: to guide rather than to control; to inspire rather than to shame; to participate fully rather than to simply “pray, pay, and obey.” ●

A Note from Fr. Jerry...

Many have been asking when the “Presepio”- The Large Neapolitan Nativity will be opening. Unfortunately, we are not able to set up the display this year. While it brings me great joy to share this family tradition with all of you it is extremely time consuming and difficult to complete. As a priest, my first responsibility is to offer you my very best. All of your priests here at Good Shepherd try to be available for you. At this time, my priestly work and responsibilities are taking up an even greater deal of my time. While so many have offered to help, it is still necessary for me to be present during most of the creation of the display. I hope you can understand. I have been designing and preparing for an even larger display than last year and hoping to share it with you in 2024. Thank you for your continued support... Fr. Jerry

Whose Son Is Christ?

Jesus asked the Pharisee, "Whose Son is the Christ?"

Shade in the shapes with a ? .

“War is the result of a series of Madnesses”

“We must not get used to war, any war. We must not allow our hearts and minds to become anaesthetized before the repetition of these very serious horrors against God and man.”

This appeal is the umpteenth coming from Pope Francis who has denounced war since the beginning of his pontificate, intensifying this appeal in the months of Russian aggression in Ukraine and, now, with the tensions in the Middle East and the resurgence of attacks and violence.

Along with Pope Francis may we continue to pray for peace in our troubled world. As always we invite your responses to the Pope's words.

If you would like to share your personal response with the parish in a future bulletin, please fill out the section below and drop it in the box in front of the main office. All submissions will remain anonymous. You can also email goodshepherdstaf@aol.com with your response
